

M:OFA

Built out of recycled wood, this pavilion was based on the idea of unobstructed thoughts children usually have. It served as a reminder of simpler times, when kids looked at the world beyond computers.

Website:

www.mofastudio.com

INDIA DESIGN ID 2014

OUTDOOR INSTALLATIONS

Constructive metaphors of thought provoking ideals

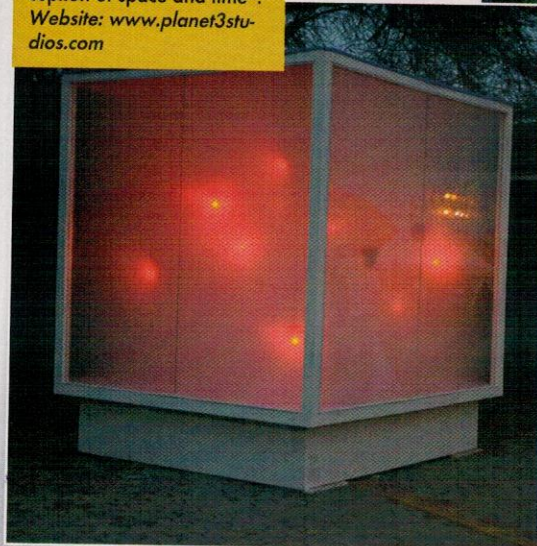

KALHAN & SANTHA FROM PLANET 3 STUDIOS

The glass box with red flashing bulbs represented the mental fog consuming reality and "warping perception of space and time".

Website: www.planet3studios.com

VROOM WITH A VIEW

HERITAGE TRANSPORT MUSEUM

Paresh Maity's imaginative interpretation of the ubiquitous autorickshaw: The vehicle was painted in a copper hue with blue seats and kite shaped metal add ons.

Website: www.heritagetransportmuseum.org

What's not to love about ice cream vans and artisanal chai! Visitors got a taste of both hot and cold refreshments: Delicious Italian desserts by Gelato Roma and uniquely flavoured tea and coffee by Jugmug Thela

